

THE LOVERS PACT

Introduction

I want to begin by both honouring you and warning you.

Firstly, I honour you for making this commitment not only to your master/mistress and the order as well as governing coven but to yourself. This is indeed the first formal step for some out of the normal confines of society and the given model of reality spoon fed to us. This marks the official beginning on the forbidden path and into the unknown and I wish you courage and remind you to be dedicated to see the way forward and herewith offer a warning

Once you enter the path there will be no off switch. You cannot unlearn or undo the steps and knowledge gained. You will be able to distract yourself for some time even if you wish, but the only way out is through. You must persist to complete the great work you have begun, or your own soul will know no peace.

Secondly, I wish to remind you that this pact is made with not only your master but with the spirits of the order and these spirits will keep their vows and extract the penalties should you fail to meet your agreed-on vows and obligations.

Although our order does focus extremely deeply on the psychological and scientific principles needed for mastery and success and we measure our craft in relationship to the results we manifest. We do have an obligation to the very real spiritual and independent forces that guide not only our order but the universe and in entering the order you in turn. Which is why you agree to honour those very same forces as they manifest in your own life by following and adhering to the principles, rules and regulations set forth in this ritually consecrate manuscript as it is empowered before the spirits and your own deepest self

The selling of the soul

In the old days and films, it is often seen where a new initiate offers up their soul to the devil in exchange for knowledge, power and other forms of worldly or other success. There is some merit to this story, but it is incorrect in its sensationalized fashion it is sold.

Firstly, the spirits of darkness have no interest in your soul as it has no intrinsic value. It bears no direct currency. This is a lie to keep you enslaved.

Yet we sell our soul daily to media and other people's opinions

The truth is that the spirits both demonic and divine seek only our total liberation and are aligned to our deepest nature as we all share the same fabric of self.

The word soul here is better understood from its Greek translation as "psyche" as it is indeed the psyche that for a time is sold or submitted.

In this act you "sell your soul to the master of darkness and the lord of lies"

This master specifically is your master who you are now signing this agreement agree with and promising to serve and satisfy in all ways as outlined here.

He/she is a lord/Lady of lies.

Lies here mean Maya or illusions, also the lie of our sense. Thus, representing one who has freed him or herself from the lie of the senses and the superstition of materialism

He or she is then also a master of darkness.

This is not only of the inner darkness but the magnetism and quantum potential dormant between the spaces in matter known as dark matter or dark energy.

In selling one's soul, one is agreeing consciously to submit the ego mind fully to the rule and guidance of the master trusting in full in his agreement to complete the outline of this contract.

Declaration of ownership

I hereby grant my master/mistress _____ complete and total control over my mind, body and soul for both his/her pleasure and my evolution for the agreed period of the binding. I agree to fully submit and serve him/her in all ways and bring every effort possible to achieve the goals of this binding and complete all my tasks and my service to him as outlined in my vows. I swear to adhere to his word as law exclusively and work to transmute my limited self-according to his instruction for the revelation of my ultimate self.

I swear to fully aid him/her in achieving his own goals and intentions as he/she will aid me in achieving mine. I thus give over full power over to him/her trusting in full that he/she will use this power for my evolution and take from me the pleasure she/he seeks at their discretion and in any manner, they desire if it holds no harm to my evolution and is consensual based upon the outline of this lovers pact known from here on simply as the contract.

I further understand and accept that the master/mistress may have _____ other lovers or devotees as he/she chooses and their office by the laws of this agreement and may / may not disclose the identity of these members to me unless a change is required for voting into the coven or by approval of the candidate or member

I understand by entering a coven that I am in an intimate relationship with all its members and have the rights to see and be involved with these members outside the bounds of ceremony and training. But not to disclose their membership or mine to outside parties unless I am placed in such a position by agreement of the coven and my own person, or required to do so by the laws of the country of residence.

I do hereby also confirm that I understand and accept the hierarchy of the coven and will abide by its law of rule noting that its rule does not negatively impact my life outside of the order.

The three paths

One can serve the order in one of 3 paths as defined below

The white path

To follow only the master/mistress

If the initiate chooses to follow the white or spirit path they agree to follow and be sexually loyal and obedient exclusively with the master/mistress and other woman only.

A white path means that the initiate will only ever be intimate with the master and no others under any circumstances unless by special assignment by the master/mistress as mutually agreed on by all members of the coven or stipulated in the by laws of the contract.

Such an initiate does not require protection when being intimate but is responsible for ensuring their health status is good and they honour their chosen path

The red path

To follow only the blood

The red path is for members who will be sexually active with both men and woman at their own discretion, strictly limited to the coven or temple.

Such a member is required to either use protection when engaging with the coven or in ceremony and if permitted to play direct must demonstrate their sexual health status prior to ceremonies or trainings that involve sexual activity

Such members will be allowed to engage sexually in open house rituals as well as private rituals with other woman and men of the same coven or temple as approved by all members.

The black path

For existing adapts of other orders who have decided to align their order/coven or path to this one of which the details are covered in the relative bi law, as well as for members who chose to take on other lovers outside of the coven of their practice.

Such a path must provide regular testing results before participating in any group or intimate rituals and their participation is pending the approval of the other members who are participating.

This members carries full responsibility for their health and its effect upon other members.

The 3 forms

The following are the 3 ranks of the order regarding authority, in ascending order as such one will always pay homage to the form above ones chosen path. One will also infuse all efforts to insure one's own ability to properly carry the office chosen

The devoted

The hidden one or devotee is a private practitioner who does not want their identity revealed. This is a person only seeks private one on one training with a master. Such a member will not be initiated with other members present but will be trained exclusively and will not be permitted involvement in any coven, house or other activities and practices a cult of two should the master/mistress also choose a white path.

The priesthood

The priest or priestess is one who does play well with others so to speak. This is someone who does become part of the order at a level where they may be involved or meet other members and have other members participate in their training and they will contribute to the other members, but do not have specific affiliation to one coven but instead to the whole of the order. Such a member is not personally or emotionally involved with the coven but follows and is obedient to its laws and practices of their pact and is dedicated to the practice and advancing of their craft but may depart from coven for periods of time and return at the discretion of the coven

The covenant

The forbidden ones or adepts of the covenant is sacred flesh also known as a huntress for woman or hunter for men and is an exclusive member of the coven and works to further the specific coven's interest. Such a member has rights to vote in members to the coven and help determine the covens by laws. Such a member is in a relationship both personally and ritually with the other members in the coven as determined by their path.

Members of this role exclusively are responsible for both the growth and protection of the coven and its members. Even though it is the duty of all members to protect the principles and honour of other members. These members are specifically trained in the forbidden arts and collaborate in the progression of the coven and the order as a whole and represent their covens and the order to other orders. a member of this house is emotionally involved in full with its members

The 3 houses

These 3 houses are the stages of training and what is involved in one's development regardless of one's element.

The following outlines the main attunement involved in each house. The training of which is an expansion of the controlled practice explored later in this document of binding. The houses are not ascending in the traditional manner but is ascended based on the psychological disposition of the initiate.

The serpent and the triangle is the first house and is entered in regardless of one's disposition as it is used to fully extract the greatest purpose the initiate is here to manifest. After which it is determined by the governing covenant what house would be best suited to aid the initiate on their next stage, but all 3 houses must be completed for one's training to be considered matured.

The serpent and the triangle

Purpose: attunement and activation

The focus of this house is the mastery of the ego and the awakening of the forces within. This is the rule of both the elemental and planetary forces and the maturing of the sexual fire into the psychic force.

The serpent represents the sexual force of kundalini and the triangle the perfected mind

Mercury

The hacker: focussed on teaching the mysteries of technology, language, influence and persuasion as well as the mind. This office is responsible for the advancement and maintenance of all the technology of the order

Saturn

The accuser: focussed on pushing members when they become stagnant and teaching the art of mastering darkness and facing and overcoming one's obstacles and dealing with and mastering pain. This role is responsible for looking at the negative side of the order and highlighting it for improvement from finding bugs and issues and resolving them or presenting them to the awareness of the different houses he is the tester

Jupiter

The leader: focussed on matters of business and leadership and teaches these skills from financial mastery to business development and leadership. This role is responsible for the financial health of the order

Mars

The warrior: focussed on the protection and security of the order and teaching members martial arts and physical discipline

Sol

The healer: the focus of this office is the health and wellbeing of the order and its members and is responsible for medical and other wellbeing related matters as well as the teaching of these arts including medicine, healing, nutrition and wellness

Luna

The psychic: the focus of this office is as the seer and mystic of the order and is both in charge of teaching the occult arts of seeing and diving but also the teaching of these arts from psychic and remote viewing to the prediction of trends and outcomes

The sonnum bonum

The fundamental goal of the order and this relationship regardless of path, order or house is the completion of the great work also known as the sonnum bonum – the ultimate good.

The focus here is and is superseded all things and this is the absolute ascend of the initiate and all members to the ultimate god hood and manifestation of the full will.

It is also called the resurrection of the garden of Eden here seen as the death sephirot fallen into malkuth by systemically using sexual energy and mastery of all aspects of the self to raise this again up the tree of life to establish the body of kadman or the perfected being.

It is thus the full maturing of each of the sephirot of both the fallen and divine tree as well as all the connected parts such as the elements, the planets, the zodiac and the 72-fold name

Daily routine

As a service to my master/mistress and myself I agree and commit to the following daily actions unless otherwise stipulated as both an act of service and personal safety and development

Geo-awareness

To declare by sharing my location when going to places so my master or someone of the coven always knows my location for the purpose of safety in the event of emergency

Weekly session

I agree to at least 1 weekly session with my master or coven to progress my development

Reporting

I agree to actively report daily on my understanding of what I have learned and insights by keeping an active journal or diary and sharing this with the master or coven

Entertaining

I agree to actively work on the art of entertainment by weekly submitting a series of written stories and images of a sensual nature describing and exploring a new narrative of myself and my life. Taking special care to implement all the principles of Venus and the other forces to this as my understanding of it grows from applying the rule of thirds and colour theory to my sensual nude images to exploring the hero's journey in my writings.

I will from here expand this to include over time custom experience for my master and or my coven including performance, theatre, dining and other experiences to demonstrate my mastery over these arts

Zodiac cycle or yearly routine practice

The regular training of each initiate will progress yearly over following components and this will be spread over private sessions and group activities based on the members chosen role and are

- 72-fold name
- 13 moons
- 22 paths
- 10 divine sephirot
- 10 fallen qlipoth
- 7 planets
- 4 elements
- 1 spirit

This is for the establishment and activation of the correspondence system and the cultivation of the inner tree of life, and these are progressively explored in the weekly sessions till they become part of the backbone of one's practice

The yearly festivals (southern hemisphere based)

We celebrate the following festivals either in closed coven or open house and these are celebrated on the following occasions. Note these days are only indicators and are adjusted to better match the changes of the seasons and planets

- Lammas - February 2
- Mabon - March 20-23
- Samhain - May 1
- Yule - June 20-23
- Imbolic - August 1
- Ostara - September 20-23
- Beltane - October 31
- Litha - December 20-23

Duties of the role

Devotee

Dedicated erotic service to the master/mistress and mastery of the arts of seduction

Priest/priestess

Dedicated to the development of the work inside the art projects and other members and mastery of the sacred arts as well as the duties of the former role

Hunter/huntress

Dedicated to furthering the efforts of the coven and its members as well as mastery of both the dark and divine arts and the duties of the former roles

Code of conduct with other members

A coven is a family and so are the families. Once you are introduced to a member then it becomes your duty to be a good friend and even lover to that member allowing your relationship to grow in service of one another in alignment of the 7 planets at no detriment to yourself or your contacts

The pact sigil and words of invocation

In our practice there is no such thing as safe words but there is instead the use of words of power.

The following words are used in your practice of rituals of pleasure or pain

Helios: to invoke more light

Hades: to invoke more darkness

The core sigil is that of a serpent rising into a hexagram but is delivered based on the progression of one through the elements

In the following order of progression

- The serpent
- The fire triangle
- The air triangle
- The water triangle
- The earth triangle

Followed by the sigil of each of the planets in progression based on the ranks

Coven duty and initiation art projects requirements

Each attunement and initiation require the initiate to produce some original work to demonstrate their mastery and understanding of the degree. This is in the form of a creative project designed specifically to demonstrates one's innovation to the field of the study and one's own interpretation of the forces. This can be done in any of the following manners

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

The coven hierarchy

Each coven operates on its own rules and regulations within the structure of the order if these rules and regulations are not in conflict with the global order.

A coven can only be started by a member of the priesthood or the covenant who has both completed all 3 houses and has received approval from their existing master/mistress.

A coven cannot consist of less than 3 members.

The order authority is based on experience in and progress in the order as such a member at a higher rank or with more time and experience in the order on the progression path holds seniority

If 2 or more members of a similar or slightly lower rank can demonstrate in a conflict hearing that the member is acting out of sonnum bonum such a member can be overruled. See conflict resolution for more information.

A coven's founder holds the final rule

A head huntress or hunter also known as a primary holds the sway over all members and can only be overruled by the master/mistress she/he is also responsible for the development of the coven especially in the absence of the master and towards any members he or she is unable to attend due to time or other efforts

A coven is governed in the same manner as a business. All membership is agreed on by vote and votes must be unanimous with relevance to superiority.

Each member of the coven will spend no more than 1 year inside a specific office

A primary may choose to step down from her role for a period if agreed on by the master

Hygiene and presentation

We are an order of master's and as such taking care of yourself is a number one priority at all times. As such you will always be presentable and ensure your hygiene and health is a high priority.

To this end each member must submit a health report at the renewal of their yearly membership and upon request from their coven given just cause.

On conduct with non-members and social mastery

As an initiate you will not disclose the secret workings of the order with other members, nor will you stoop down to lower levels of seeking their approval. You will always carry the knowledge of your true value being greater than anything the outside world can offer you and you will carry yourself as the ultimate prize and only share your time with the worthy.

To this you will study every aspect of social dynamics and influence and remove all approval seeking behaviour by mastering the principles of the human need's psychology insure you are always operating from a narrative in which you are

- significant
- certain
- creative
- connected
- growing
- contributing

On silence

No activity of the order may be disclosed to the outside world, this extends to our secrets, our practices and our membership as well as your affiliation.

You agree to keep secret the names and identities and secrets of all members and of the order itself. Engaging only the public art projects should such information be made public purely under the guise of artistic efforts.

On affiliations

You have the full freedom of engaging with any other occult order assuming approval from your direct master, but all such affiliations must be disclosed to insure it does not negatively impact your development and duties to the order. Due to the nature of this willingness to share and learn from other orders membership to our order may be shared with associated order pending approval from your coven.

The vows and responsibilities

I make the following vows to my master, my coven and the spirits and agree to honour the following self-imposed responsibilities

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

On conflict resolution

In the event of mis communication or other forms of conflict. Both effected parties will seize all communication and focus on raising their state of vibration before further engaging in the conversation.

Before engaging further in the conversation, the subject must be reviewed from the vantage point of the 4 elements, and this must be done within 1 hour of the conflict.

If no amicable resolution is achieved here the conversion must be moved from any digital platform into an in-person conversation.

Should no resolution be achieved at this point then a governing member will be approached to assist in a resolution

Renewal and release

Renewal

All agreements have a single sun cycle or 1-year life span from the date of signing and must be renewed at the anniversary of the signing as per date of this document. At the point of resigning the candidate may decide to either terminate the agreement and exit the contract or adjust elements such as their chosen path, element or coven

Cancellation

Cancellations from the candidate may be submitted at any time in writing to their master who can then absolve them from their contract pending a ceremony of separation. Such a member may return at a future date keeping their training level but may need to reapply and confirm to the expectations of the coven he or she wishes to join

For a candidate or member to be terminated they must be in violation of the terms of the contract or require no less than 3 members to verify in writing the purpose of their termination. In such agreements no ceremony of separation is required, and the offending member will be permanently banned from any further affiliations to the order

Transfer

In the event of a member transferring covens, they are required to submit to their initial master 2 letters of approval. One from the accepting coven into which they enter and one from the coven from which they are departing alongside a letter of why they wish to transfer.

A ritual of transfer is required

The outer order and projects

The following constitutes financial gain projects or businesses of which all coven members form part of the executive or directive team and their specific duties and share percentage of ownership and responsibilities

[illegible]

The inner order

In many traditions we find the notion of an inner order. Given the structure of our work, we define essentially as an inner order with our art projects acting as the outer order.

We do also have an external order known as the order of the sacred lights. These are for members and projects that do not explore the left practices.

As such in our context outer order means right hand path and inner order means left hand by conventional terms but as experienced practitioner's we perceive our path as a middle way. This allows us to focus not on a model of good and evil but instead of mature and immature expressions of light and darkness noting that we at our fundamental level are gods and as such both light and darkness are expressions born from us and instead, we seek to develop, understand and mature these forces as can be seen in the model of the Tao and its counters of ying and yang.

Our practice splits however into 2 divisions

The coven

This constitutes the private practices of a coven with its exclusive members

The families

Are group practices where affiliated covens will practice together usually in conjunction with the major equinoxes but can also practice together in the festival periods together based on the defined roles of the members?

Security of intellectual property

Each art project sold or generating financial remuneration will be writing into a document defined in the product release agreement specifically associated to project. This will insure the continued financial compensation upon the project and is specific to the terms and percentages set forth in such agreements.

These agreements will hold in place even if a member decides to terminate their relationship with the order, but such agreements will be null, and void should a member be banned from the order due to violation of the order agreements and laws in which event the intellectual rights will automatically become that of the order

Note however that the agreed Exchange for training is not covered in this section as the compensation for this is exchange itself.
